

Project Update: November 2007

Jaime was the invited lecturer to present a speech on whale watching in Venezuela at the "II International Conference on tourism and entertainment", held in the University UPEL in Maracay, State of Aragua, 2-4 November. The website of this meeting is: <http://www.deporteyrecreacionupel.org/html/programa.asp>

Additionally he was invited to present a short course (3 hours) on responsible whale watching to be included amongst the teaching activities of the meeting. It was an excellent opportunity to officially start our project about Empowering local communities for responsible management of whale watching and to acknowledge the Rufford Small Grant Foundation's support to our coming activities.
