

Project Update: May 2014

I am writing this message to let you know that I have presented some results from my work in different presentations where I have used the Rufford Grants. One of the meetings where I presented my work was the Association for Tropical Biology in Costa Rica, 2013. The link for the abstract is: <https://atbc.confex.com/atbc/2013/webprogram/Paper1064.html>

I also had the opportunity to participate in a United Nations workshop where I talked about the importance of biodiversity for carbon stocks in tropical forests, and I used the logo for this talk as well, as I included data taken in the sites where Rufford provided the funding. Here I am attaching the link where the presentation is, and I am glad to say that results from this talk have been included in a UNFCCC report that will be presented to SBSTA-40.
