

Project Update: July 2013

In the last mail I told you about conducting plantation programme in my study area. After staying 1 week over there we had successfully conducted plantation programme in the riverine area (Mohana River). We had planted 4000 Plant including different bamboo species, eucalyptus and Dalbergia sisso. We had planted in three community forest area where women groups are managing one of the plot and rest community forest users groups. To make this event successful District Forest Office, Mohana Laljhadi Conservation Area and Community Forest Users Groups have contributed equally. Altogether there were more than 250 participants who participated in plantation programme and are committed to the nature conservation.
