

Project Update: December 2013

The design process of the space that will host community workshops in the British Park.

The British Park has had a great advance in their building sites and environmental interpretation center where we will state our herbarium and our community workshop. This creates a better use of the area for our purposes. We have worked actively in the enhancements of the interpretation center. And community agents are motivated to participate in the project.

