

Project Update: October 2009

Our project has started in September 2008 and finished in August 2009. This is a summary of the main activities.

- September 2008: purchase of equipment.
- October 2008: training for team members. Four team members and other interested teachers have been trained for the related methodologies.
- November, December 2008: setting up the groups of schoolchildren. Designing and printing campaign posters and leaflets.
- January to July 2009: Publishing the campaign's commitment pamphlet and carrying out the campaign. We have conducted four educational programmes and four small campaigns at four selected schools within Hanoi city. A total of 400 schoolchildren have been joined in our programme and campaigns. During May 2009, a large scale campaign has been implemented within Hanoi city; a total of 300 schoolchildren, 40 teachers, 8 people from local authorities, 15 volunteers and 10 journalists have joined in the campaign. All the participants have signed the commitment "No to consuming wildlife products; no to keeping wild birds in cages".
- August to October 2009: reporting and delivery.
