

Project Update: May 2014

A poster on protection of the Spotted Eagle in Ukraine was released in the beginning of spring 2014 (Picture 1). The posters are distributed among all organizations that were visited by the team. We also conducted training programs on monitoring and protection of Spotted Eagle at 3 universities, 11 forestries, and 9 schools in the north-western regions of Ukraine - where Spotted Eagle is present. In order to help us to distribute information about the project among the local people, volunteers were chosen from the universities' biology departments (Picture 4). Lectures about the project and the protection of the Spotted Eagle are conducted regularly in the regional museum of local culture. Scientific articles on biology, rarity and value of the Spotted Eagle were published in two regional newspapers (Picture 2,3). Employees of regional nature reserve took part in the radio program where the activities of the project. A seminar on Spotted Eagle took place in the beginning of spring where the results of the project were discussed (Picture 5).
