

Project Update: September 2005

We have set-up a nursery at our field site. Experimentation regarding various propagation trials etc. are conducted over there with the help of community personnel. In collaboration with the Forest Department (FD), we have started and identified 'plus specimens' that are potential sources of the Camptothecin alkaloid.

Picture of the nursery that is set-up in the field. Photo by Dr. Ankur Patwardhan.