

Project Update: November 2014

Narok County Government has started developing its 10-year spatial plan for Narok County. In October 2014, the government held a workshop to bring together different stakeholders working in the county. The aim of the event was to initiate the spatial plan development process and I presented results from my research so far. The data I collect on elephant movement, human-elephant conflict, wildlife corridors and land-use will help the county government develop their spatial planning for Narok County.

Presenting at the Narok County Government spatial plan workshop.
