

Project Update: October 2015

In the first stage of the project we have had several meetings with local stakeholders that included mainly farmers. Fields trips have been organised to upstream areas of small streams, where farmers use pumping engines to take water from the streams. We have met mainly farmers and local community representatives, including forest workers, water users and schoolchildren. We have discussed all the problems related to habitats of sturgeons.

