

Project Update: January 2017

We started promotion of the project in primary and secondary schools in the city of Niš, as well as in primary schools in local communities (settlements close to the studied sites). So far we have visited five schools in Niš and one in Lalinac village, and we plan to continue promotional activity in January. Volunteers from the Department of Biology and Ecology and Biological Society “Dr Sava Petrović” are helping us. In addition to the brochure, we have prepared a calendar for 2017, which will be shared to the locals. Calendars are designed by Dimitrija Savić, PhD student of biology and more recently a new member of our team.
