

Project Update: April 2017

As a continuous activity of our earlier booster grant from RSG, last month we have initiated seagrass community reserve for rehabilitation through transplantation and conservation of existing beds.

In the past few years of continuous efforts our team with the support from RSG is now more transformed in to "community reserve" this year.

What is the wonderful part of it is, presently local government supporting our organisation for dugong feeding ground conservation (seagrass!).

Please some of our photos of ongoing activity now. Although our project completed few months ago, I would like to share that your initiative support in Palk Bay is slowly expanding with local government support and community participation.
