

Project Update: October 2016

Progress has been achieved up to date according to the corresponding schedule of activities for the second semester of 2016. The collection of seeds and samples for herbarium of 12 species have taken place. Members of the collective "Almandros for a better world" have received training in order to strengthen their capabilities through technical training on methods of seed collection, seed germination and reproduction of the species in seedbeds. The selection of seeds and germination in bags and trays of the different species collected have been made. Progress has been made in the construction of the community tree nursery house by members of the collective. A link has been generated with the Intercultural University of the State of Tabasco, through students from social development studies and tourism that are performing their social service with the present project.
