

Project Update: June 2008

It seems constant efforts for over last couple of years (from recovery to standardization) have finally been paid off. The biggest success of Nothapodytes conservation project has come in form of:

- 1) Recognition of this species in priority list of State Forest Dept.
- 2) State Horticulture and Medicinal Plant Board (MSHMPB) included this species in promotional species list.

