

Project Update: August 2006

In August, students were given knowledge about ecosystem, especially surrounding their neighborhood. On class activities, the facilitator described the ecosystem by using a poster. Students were asked to remind the knowledge by interactively rewriting the information on to the blackboard. On the next meeting, students were asked to go out of the class and observe their neighborhood ecosystem and put their observations on to a piece of paper by drawing it.

This month, teachers were gathered in Ciasmara 5 School. They were given information of school health from the health department of Pamijahan subdistrict. This training was conducted on the third weeks of August.
