

Project Update: September 2018

I presented my research in the 4th International Southeast Asian Bat Conference in August 2018 in the Philippines and won an award for best oral presentation. I recently published an article about a small part of the research <https://www.mdpi.com/1424-2818/10/3/102>.

I will publish two major articles about the research later on this year or next year.
