

Project Update: October 2018

This is to kindly inform you that alive, male dugong caught accidentally in fishing net of local fishers was saved by local fishers and our team in July 2018. It was later released safely, which is an impact of long-term rapport and funding support from Rufford. There are inline departments and other stakeholders who jointly organised this work such as Wildlife Institute of India.

