

Project Update: August 2018

I have been attending and successfully finished a workshop/training Course in 'São Paulo School of Advanced Science on Ocean Interdisciplinary Research and Governance' entitled 'How to advance in Ocean Science' where I have met and interacted with various fellows working on marine litter/debris management and impacts on sea turtle and marine habitat conservation in Brazil and other parts of the world. The workshop took place at São Paulo University, Oceanographic Institute São Paulo, Brazil from 13th - 25th August 2018. See below are the photos.

Discussion with Nathalia Silva de Souza Lima working on Plastic waste recycling in Brazil

Left: Poster Presentation of my PhD thesis work on Marine Pollution Management with PhD fellow, Kwesi from Ghana. Middle & Right: Team members working on Management of Marine Litter.