

MANGROVE REVIVAL

PADRE RODOLPHO, CANAAN-CE

1 HECTARE PER MONTH

A young woman in a blue and white polo shirt is smiling and holding a small black bag. She is standing in a mangrove area with other students in the background. The scene is outdoors with trees and water.

The students of Padre Rodolpho School, in Canaan are completing the task; replanting 1 hectare of mangrove per visit! A total of 60 students participate on each excursion, which aims to reforest the estuarine areas of Mundau river. The visits started in March and will continue until November 2018. In the last visit, students and researchers from the University of Ceará helped our students in the field and shared their knowledge. This is an incredible achievement to both students and the local community, in recreating the original aspects of the mangrove ecosystem.
