

Project Update: January 2020

I was honoured to present my work on wild mushrooms in Nepal - kindly supported by The Rufford Foundation (Grant ID - 25337-1) during Regional Experts' Symposium held at Chengdu China (Nov 17-19, 2019). Programme was organized by ICIMOD and Chengdu Institute of Biology (under Chinese Academy of Sciences).

Rufford's roles in finding inter-linkages between society and science and contribution to bring underrepresented/undervalued/underestimated taxa like wild mushrooms was well appreciated by all the participants. Personally, I did talk about Rufford and also acknowledged greatly in providing support.

I'll be sharing conference proceeding which will be published in the Journal of Mountain Science.

Mushrooms in the Mountains: Assessing the role of fungi on the Ecosystem-based Adaptation (EbA) practices in Nepal Himalaya

Acknowledgements

and all of you for your gracious presence
shiva.devkota@gmail.com

2

Regional Experts' Symposium on Ecosystem-based Adaptation in the Hindu Kush Himalaya
17-19 December 2019, Chengdu, China

3