

Project Update: July 2018

Our team just came back from the field, attached to this email you will find some photos of the species, our field team and the forest near Talpa, Jalisco, México, where we are working right now.

