Please Remember: DO NOT discard your old clothes, jeans, vests, fabrics, foams, used boat-sails (especially spinnakers) and life jackets! Rather, donate these items to CWC We recycle waste into unique, useful and durable bags. For more information, material donations, special orders or to enroll in our free CWC Sewing Program please e-mail infocreativewomencarriacou@gmail.com or call 443 7936

In July 2018 a group of twenty creative women started to reduce the pollution of single-use plastic bags in Carriacou opening a laboratory to design, produce and sell alternative grocery and fashion bags made of up-cycled discarded materials (boat sails and various waste fabrics)

Our Brand name

CarriaCoolBag

Our Motto
Reduce, Reuse, Recycle
RE-THINK

By producing these durable grocery bags CWC helps to reduce the amount of plastics and fabrics discarded in Carriacou's land and coastal waters

Our community-based enterprise received a head-start grant from Seacology.org, a California based nature conservation organization, through KIDO Foundation, Carriacou, with the aim to soon become self-sustainable

Part of the generated profits will support scholarships for needy students and projects to protect our coastal ecosystems and the endangered fauna & flora of Carriacou

In exchange for the grant, CWC has pledged to protect Carriacou's nesting sea turtle population and to restore red mangrove forests. Some CWC women have for years been involved with KIDO Foundation nesting sea turtle monitoring & mangroves restoration at L'ILET Bird and Turtle Sanctuary, Petit Carenage Carriacou

CWC professional trainers offer, free of cost, Design & Sewing training courses to students and young adults willing to learn or improve their skills to successfully join our productive and dynamic population.
