

Project Update: February 2020

I am concluding the collection of faeces from Lontra longicaudis at Turvo State Park. I would like to thank all the employees who helped me in this stage.

The next step is to analyse all the samples, start the sampling at a new area and to elaborate on a plan with the park teams about how we can raise awareness in the local community about the conservation of mustelids and environmental preservation.

This stage is relevant because I am working in different realities and social contexts.
