

Project Update: October 2020

Assessing factors preventing adults' people to uptake contraceptives methods and its impact on conservation of Nyungwe Park. From 5 to 10 October 2020 I had visited the research project setting for exploration, identification and planning and then, on 15 October 2020, I held Inception workshop with partners, opinion leaders and local authorities.

Objectives of workshop

1. To engage stakeholders, partners, conservationists, health agencies and local authorities to assure proper research project design and implementation process.
2. To include voice of stakeholders and different partners count in project development.
3. To explain importance of research project and role of partner to ensure desired success and impact of the project.

The research project proposal project was presented to participants, thereafter questionnaire was modified and opted to community contexts, thereafter, added comments are being added to guarantee the success and influence of the work

Thaddee doing presentation about Project Research during workshop

Invitees following the presentation and providing insight during presentation