

Project Update: April 2006

Left: LVSB Members and Community Group Members Carrying Out Bio- Diversity Survey at Dunga Wetland on 21th April 2006. Right: Lvsb Members and Members of Dunga Community Groups during a Training Workshop for Members of the Community Groups on Basic Bio- Diversity Monitoring Skills.

Left: A Nature Kenya Research Scientist Mr. Mark Otieno Helps LVSB Members to Do Water Ph Test. Right: LVSB Members with National Museums of Kenya Research Scientists at the Edge of Dunga Swamp Preparing to Start a Lesson Demonstration on Research Methodologies to Members of Dunga Community Groups.

Left: Wildlife Club Members, their Patron and Lvsb Members Mike Wairoma after the School Recieved Three Dustbins to Facilitate Waste Management of Forms of Wastes in the School.This was During a Previous Rufford Small Grants Funded Program. Right: Some of LVSB Members Preparing a Tree Nursery before a School Outreach Program. The Trees Are Planted In Various Schools around Dunga Wetland.