

Project Update: February 2011

In January 2011, we conducted a chimpanzee (Pan troglodytes) survey in the Okoroba community forest in the Niger Delta. We confirmed the continued presence of chimpanzees through local reports and collected faecal samples for genetic analysis. However, the lack of direct detections reflects the very low abundance of this remnant population, which is in urgent need of conservation action.

